Careers in tourism on PEI

Elaine Thomson has been the General Manager for the Comfort Inn in Charlottetown for almost 15 years. She started her career in the tourism industry as a waitress/cashier, and has been a bar manager, front office manager, and property manager. "I started out wanting to be a dietician," says Elaine. "I changed my career track and took the Tourism and Travel Management program at Holland College, and I've been working in tourism ever since."

For the past eight summers, Jeff MacKenzie has worked at Sandspit in Cavendish. "I started as a park attendant, and over the years I moved up into supervisor and manager roles," says Jeff. "This was my first job, and I'm still with the company. I like the work. It's different every day. I'm a Business student at UPEI, and working at Sandspit gives me the opportunity to apply some of the fundamental skills I learn in business school."

Stephen MacLeod is in his first year at the Culinary Institute of Canada. "I took this program because of the amazing opportunities for graduates to travel and work all over the world," says Stephen. "I'm also enjoying the opportunity to explore different cuisines. I hope to find a culinary internship position in Montreal this summer."
